

Approved Unaffiliated Programs (AUPs) 2022-2023 Terms Abroad

Approved Unaffiliated Programs (AUPs) are pre-approved for transfer of credit back to the University of Denver. DU students must successfully complete the DU Study Abroad nomination process by indicated deadlines in order to receive approval to participate on an AUP. AUPs are approved based on the accredited institution issuing the transcript for student coursework abroad. In the case of some foreign institutions listed below, it may be possible for a student to enroll in the institution via a U.S. program provider (IES, CIEE, CEA, g-MEO, IGE, USAC, etc.); in doing so, it is the student's responsibility to verify that the program provider selected offers a transcript from the institution indicated below, otherwise DU may deny transfer of credit for the program. In the case of U.S. institutions that conduct their own programs abroad or serve as a school of record, transcripts from these institutions are approved ONLY for the study abroad program(s) indicated. Transcripts from these institutions for study abroad programs other than those indicated on the AUP list are not approved for transfer credit. Because of the fluid nature of health and safety abroad, all approved programs below may be reviewed by Risk Management after application and may not be approved based upon the security/health situation of the country or region.
